Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 02 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Outbreaks of rain and snow.

This Evening and Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain, sleet and snow through this evening and overnight, with the far north holding on to drier conditions with a scattering of wintry showers. Rain around the coast, but significant falls of snow possible over the hills.

Wednesday:
Outbreaks of rain, sleet and snow will continue. Mainly rain around the east coast, but significant falls of snow over higher ground. Brighter with wintry showers far north. Chilly winds.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Remaining unsettled with further rain, sleet and snow. Snow at all levels by the weekend, although plenty of dry weather across the far north. Cold easterly winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.